TRAINER: Routes(311.17 $1.74) Stakes(97.10 $1.38)

- Velocitor is in good order after a strong tune-up effort in July's 1 1/8 mile Plate Trial Stakes, which produced a fourth-place finish. "I was really thrilled with the way he kept on battling to the wire," said Plate-winning trainer Kevin Attard. "I thought it was a nice effort from a horse who has certainly shown he is capable of running a big race."
- The King's Plate will be the colt's greatest challenge to date. He enters the field with the talent to compete under the bright lights.
- "He came out of the race great and now we are looking forward to him improving off that last one and showing his talent in what is his biggest race so far," said Attard.
- Velocitor is a homebred for Al and Bill Ulwelling, who first teamed up with Attard 2017. The father-son duo quickly emerged as major proponents for the sport in Ontario.
- "Al and Bill Ulwelling have been a huge supporter of Ontario racing and racing at Woodbine. They are extremely invested in our sport and deserve all the success they have had," said Attard. "I know how much it means to them to have a horse in The King's Plate. We're all looking forward to seeing their silks represented in the race."

Jockey – Justin Stein

Justin Stein began his riding career in his native British Columbia in 2004, recording his first career win on August 28 at Hastings Park, and by the next year had become the track's leading rider with 148 wins. Stein moved to Woodbine full-time in 2006 and finished his first season in Ontario with 109 wins, good for fourth in the jockey standings. In 2012, Stein won the Queen's Plate with Strait of Dover. Three years later he won the Woodbine Oaks with 66-1 shot Academic, who went on to defeat males with Stein aboard in the Grade 3 Canadian Derby at Northlands and the Grade 3 B.C. Derby at Hastings. Stein retired in 2016 but returned to race-riding at Woodbine in 2019 and has excelled, winning his first Grade 1 with Starship Jubilee in the 2020 Woodbine Mile while finishing atop the Woodbine standings in earnings and second in races won. Stein is closing in on 1,400 career wins.
